2023 SURGIDONTICS CONFERENCE

Please join us for our 4th annual Surgidontics symposium February 1st - 4th, 2023. “Surgidontics” is focused education for orthodontists and surgeons in orthognathic surgery, AOO, skeletal anchorage, and other ortho- surgical adjunctive techniques— advanced techniques requiring interdisciplinary planning and execution highlighting the relationship between the orthodontist and the surgeon.

This year’s meeting focus is sleep disordered breathing. Discussion topics will include functional approaches for airway obstruction, a comprehensive review of MMA for OSA, and pre-surgical planning for your airway patients. We look forward to seeing you in Park City.

SOROUSH ZAGHI, MD

Lecture:

A Functional Approach to Sleep & Breathing: Tongue- Tie, Tongue-Tone, and Tongue-Space.

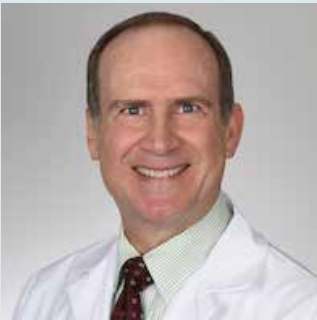

Course Description:

This course is designed for comprehensive and highly specialized treatment of adult and pediatric sleep and breathing issues.

ABOUT DR. ZAGHI

Dr. Zaghi graduated from Harvard Medical School, completed residency in ENT (Otolaryngology- Head and Neck Surgery) at UCLA, and Sleep Surgery Fellowship at Stanford University. The focus of his sub-specialty training is on the comprehensive treatment of tongue-tie, nasal obstruction, mouth breathing, snoring, and obstructive sleep apnea. He is very active in clinical research relating to sleep disordered breathing with over 80+ peer-reviewed research publications in the fields of neuroscience, head and neck surgery, and sleep-disordered breathing.

TIMOTHY J TREMONT, DMD, MS

Lecture:

Orthodontic Management of the Orthognathic Surgery Patient

Course Description:

Successful orthognathic surgical outcomes depend on refined coordination of responsibilities between the surgeon and orthodontist. Dr. Tremont's presentation will identify common discrepancies in the dental arches that orthodontists encounter and how to manage them to allow optimal surgical repositioning of the jaws.

ABOUT DR. TREMONT

Dr. Tim Tremont is Professor and Chairman of the Department of Orthodontics, College of Dental Medicine, Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC) in Charleston, South Carolina. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine and completed his residency at the University at Buffalo earning an MS and specialty certificate in orthodontics. He attained an Executive Certificate in Academic Healthcare Administration from West Virginia University and is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics.

Dr. Tremont's academic focus is on diagnosis, treatment planning and clinical strategies. Known for his patient and effective teaching style, he lectures nationally and internationally, and regularly provides courses on subject matter relating to orthodontics and orthognathic surgery.
